So much to discover

Soon, you'll be experiencing it for yourself. The convenience of instant boiling water from your kitchen tap.

No more waiting for the kettle to boil. You'll save so much time and space on your worktop. The first time you poach eggs, skin tomatoes and blanche asparagus will definitely be one to remember. And you'll discover so much more: how to clean that greasy oven dish with your Quooker, for example. Quickly fill a hot water bottle. Sterilise teats. Or make a cup of filter coffee.

Quooker users all over the world agree: once you've used a Quooker, you can't live without it. Just as predicted by Henri Peteri, who invented the boiling-water tap in 1970. His idea was as simple as it was revolutionary and still forms the basis for the company that is now run by Peteri's two sons Walter and Niels and which has since become an international success.

Sustainability is one of our most important spearheads. A Quooker lasts many years. Maintenance is easy. Parts can be replaced without immediately having to buy a new Quooker if you have problems. And if you do have a problem, our customer service department is ready to help.

We hope you enjoy using your Quooker!
